DIY INJECTOR CLEANING

- Although fuel injectors can be expensive, cleaning them is often overlooked as part of regular maintenance.
- Most technicians never perform occasional fuel system cleaning to ensure proper operation until it's too late.
- You can use a good quality fuel system cleaning additive to clean the fuel system. Here is how:
 - Allow your fuel tank to go down to less than quarter tank.
 - Pour a bottle of the cleaning additive into your fuel tank and fill up.
 - Drive until your fuel tank is down to about a quarter tank again and repeat with another bottle.
 - Repeat process every 3 to 6 months.
