HOW TO BUY JUMPER CABLES

- If your car develops a battery problem and you need jump-starting help from another battery to get you home, you you'll need effective jumper cables that can do the job with little fuss.
- Always have jumper cables in your car for emergencies.
- When purchasing jumper cables always opt for thicker cables.
- Thicker cables provide less electrical resistance to current flow and will allow more power to flow into your battery to start your vehicle.
